1.3 Feedback from stakeholders (On all aspects) Alumni Parents Employers Students

Mode of feedback : Online Manual Co-operating schools (for PEI)

Analysis of the feedback

The feedback from Alumni, Parents, Employers and Students reflects the rapid elevation and development of various aspects of the Institute. The Academic quality and zeal for learning and teaching and the continues growth of the infrastructure of the Institute caters the current and upcoming demand of the stake holders. The facilitation of new technology to the students and teachers is a milestone in the history of development and change for betterment.

There was continuous demands from the parents/students that science subject should also be offered, so that their wards can also opt for this subject. This discipline is under process and the necessary infrastructure (Lab/equipments) etc. were developed in Acharya Kalu Kanya Mahavidyalaya for this and for the teaching of these subjects the scrutiny for competent faculty is under process. This effort of the Institute proves to be instrumental in order of realize the goal of women education and empowerment.

The feedback and the active contribution of the parents/community/members/students provide a helping platform in achieving the goal of enhancing the student strength. The student admission drive of the Institute was implemented effectively in ladnun and adjoining area and was a success and students in general and girls students in particular in ample volume is on the role of student list of the Institute. The feedback and the suggestion of various cells and committee were considered by the administrative front and were implemented, that proves significant development in sports, cultural and other extracurricular activities, publication, academic development, NCC/NSS activities etc. of the Institute.

7. Innovations and Best Practices

7.1 Innovations and Best Practices based on ethics and morality are being regularly motivated and updated resulting in the positive and fruitful impact on the functioning of the institute.

1. Values Based Teaching and Learning

The Institute was established under the pious inspiration and guidance of Acharya Tulsi, the great saint of his times. He happens to be the first Anushasta (Constitutional moral head) of the institute. So the foundation, on which this institute is based, is replete with moral and ethical values. This Institute is devoted to higher learning of oriental studies in general and Jainology in particular is a research based institute which is committed to impart value based education. The daily academic and non-academic routine starts with morning prayer and meditation which nourish the positive aspect of the Institutes environment.

2. Objectives of the Best Practice

- (a) To incorporate human values and morality both in the conventional and non-conventional courses.
- (b) To encourage the student to applied ethical values in the each activity of life.
- (c) To initiate and promote research activities related to the life and sayings of the great seers to interpret these in the light of human conduct and action.

3. The Context

The basic core of teaching learning process is the curriculum where values like peace and nonviolence pre-dominates each and every aspect. The uniqueness of the institute lies in the development of both inner and outer life of the students. The best practices are also manufactured through the academic excellence and updated pedagogy in a sophisticated way. As the students are oriented with the vision and mission of this institute from the very beginning, they, enable themselves to face the challenges of life with confidence. There are given such an atmosphere where they can manifest their thought in the classical way without any hindrance. All these goes into transforming the personality of the students.

4. The Practices

Our Indian culture is unique which is rich in its diversity, spirituality and deep philosophy. All these elements are so ingrained in the very fabric of Indian life that these elements are also manifested in the Indian educational system. These have now become an emerging sector at the global level. JVBI is trying to leave no stone unturned in order to cater the need of this global era with the cult and fragrance of value based culture. Prayer and meditation start a day in JVBI. It symbolically promotes a healthy and happy atmosphere around, leaving no possibility for any unrest, harassment and ragging etc. Value education and training in nonviolence, constant development of positive attitude and personality development through the orientation of various programmes are the uniqueness of this Institute. Here the students are taught both in terms of attachment and detachment, so that they should learn developing self-restraint making a balance between these two.

5. Evidence of Success

The result of value based education is reflected in the success of various aspect of institution. It is evident from the fact that no mis-happening has ever occurred in the shape of student unrest, student union, ragging and molestation acts, harassment of any type. The culture of the institute is to show dignity towards every human and women folk. Everyone can retain his or her self respect and work here. The Samani group which is tendering its services without having any honorarium are the key pillar of best practices which have been hailed at several occasions by the galaxy of academicians.

6. Problems Encountered and Resources Required

As this Institute is located in the remote dunes of Rajasthan, and is not very well connected through the all modes of transportation. The major problems which the institute has encountered after its establishment are related to lack of better transport connectivity with other cities, rural setting along with its medical health care, school drop-out and the hard ground water which is used for drinking and cooking purpose. All these problems block the possibilities of interaction with the learned scholars and the resource persons. These also hamper the flow of students from other cities.
